Real Neighbors. Real Neighborhood. Fall 2026

Alan Anderson Neighborhood Pride Award

BY MAUREEN TIRITILLI

Steve Widdoss and Christina Alvarado
1116 N. Westwood

The house was built in 1942, and Steve and Christina moved in in October 2018. They had previously lived in Van Nuys, where they met in their apartment building in 2006. Orange County became home when Christina's architecture position was moved here.

The world they left and the one they found were worlds apart. In the Valley, you do not talk to strangers, you keep your head down and mind your own business. Imagine their shock when a neighbor walked up their driveway to meet them? Washington Square.

As we all know, old houses require lots of work and the Widdoss's recently had major work completed. The roof was first to be replaced with Presidential Shingles for a highly textured look and had two Sola Tubes installed in their front room. What an abundance of sunlight those tubes provide from the ceiling!

The gutters and awnings were repainted, and the house received a brand-new paint color – a bold garden green. Landscaping was redone in the front yard, with new plants, new lawn, a navel orange tree, and boxwood hedging resembling the way the yard was done in the 'forties, as found in an old photo of the house.

Heroes Elementary, October 15 - 7:00PM

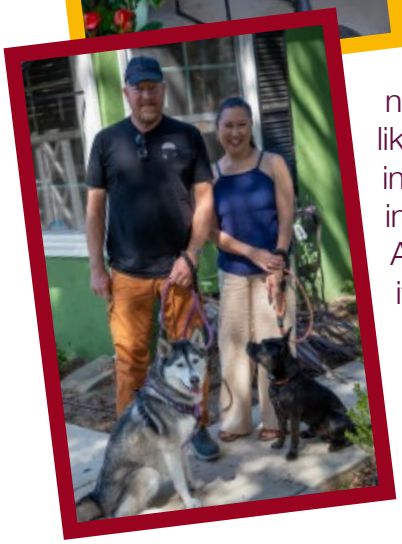
Also, new walkways were installed, one of which has been dubbed "the mail man path," as it easily allows the mail man passage from one house to the other.



In addition to these updates, Steve and Christina keep busy with their hobbies. Christina runs regularly and loves cooking. Steve, whose business is building music studio furniture, loves music, guitars, golf, motorcycles, and old cars.

With their two VERY friendly dogs, Toga, a four-year-old Siberian Huskie, and two-year-old French bulldog/German Shepard mix Greg (named after Gregory Porter, R&B artist), you will see Steve and Christina walk the neighborhood daily. Stop and chat. They both like the new world they find themselves in, here in Washington Square. As Steve puts it, it is the right neighborhood, the right house, the right place.

Washington Square Neighborhood Association
MISSION STATEMENT

The Washington Square Neighborhood Association is an organization working to foster a sense of community by promoting public awareness, developing an appreciation of the historical significance of our homes, bridging the cultural, generational, and economic diversity of our residents and bringing about communication between the community, local businesses and city officials.

Get Involved in Washington Square

Like many volunteer organizations, WSNA relies on a small core group of members who have generously given their time and energy for many years. That group has carried much of the responsibility for planning and running events.

As time passes, some of our long-time volunteers are finding it harder to take on large projects like organizing major events. Without new volunteers willing to help lead and share the workload, it becomes difficult to continue traditions that have been part of our community for decades.
WSNA remains a strong and active organization. Our events and traditions depend on the willingness of members to get involved.

Fresh energy and new volunteers will help ensure that these special gatherings can continue in the years ahead.

A word from our President

I am writing this the day after an extremely successful Washington Square Chili Cook-Off.

A huge thank-you to Dave Dethloff and Caroline Rutenbar for co-hosting, and to Valerie and Bob for allowing us to hold the event in their beautiful backyard. One of the most enjoyable parts of the day was meeting so many new neighbors who shared that this was their first time attending a WSNA event.

We have been asking neighbors to volunteer, and the response has been outstanding. The day after the event, a dozen plus people showed up to help, and the cleanup was completed in just 15 minutes. It truly takes a village, and everyone's participation is deeply appreciated.

My tenure as WSNA President will come to an end in three months, so I wanted to proactively ask someone to consider stepping into this position. You will have the full support of the Board and Officers, who will guide you every step of the way.

I look forward to seeing you at our next WSNA General Meeting on October 15 at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at Heroes Elementary School.

We will have the privilege of welcoming Frank Gutierrez, North Area Commander with the Santa Ana Police Department's Field Operations Bureau. He will provide an update on what is happening in Washington Square. We will also hear from the brand-new Santa Ana Police Department Drone Team, who will share information about the successful implementation of their program this past June. You won't want to miss hearing their exciting statistics about this new service being provided to the Santa Ana community.

We will also have the honor of having two speakers from the Assistance League, Donna Layne & Rhonda McNutt come and share their experience with working there.

Date: Thursday, October 15
Time: 7:00 p.m.
Location: Heroes Elementary School

Pizza will be provided, and we will also be giving
We look forward to seeing you there!

We Have A Winner! BY TRACY SIMONS

In the WSNA Summer Newsletter, we featured our first-ever "Young Writers' Essay Contest." We are pleased to announce that 8-year-old Zoe Reyes is the winner!

Zoe will receive a special gift at the upcoming WSNA General Meeting on October 15, 2026. Please take a moment to read her winning essay below, and be sure to attend the meeting to congratulate Zoe in person!

The Best Thing About Our Neighborhood

My name is Zoe, and I will be 8 years old soon. I think there are many wonderful things about my neighborhood, but there are four things that are my favorite.

First, I love our 4th of July parade. My mommy helped start the parade so that I could ride my bike with our neighbors. I love seeing everyone outside, waving, laughing, and celebrating together. It makes me feel happy and proud to be part of our neighborhood.

Second, I love that our neighbors make us feel like family. Tom and Nancy are always kind and helpful to my mommy. They are always there when we need them, and that makes our neighborhood feel special.

Third, I love going to our neighborhood meetings because I get to have pizza! It is fun to see everyone while enjoying a yummy dinner.

Last, I love our neighborhood movie nights. We get to sit outside, watch a movie, eat cotton candy, and spend time together under the stars.

The best thing about my neighborhood is not just one thing. It is the people, the fun, and the way we come together like family. I am so thankful to live in such a special neighborhood.

WSNA Real Estate Report

BY SARAH COVARRUBIAS

A Look at the Market

Over the last two years, we've seen the real estate market slow down in many parts of the country, and we're now starting to see those changes here in Orange County. Southern California has often been one of the last areas to feel a shift in the market, but the change is here.

Looking at the numbers for North Santa Ana, homes are now averaging more than 65 days on the market, the highest we've seen in the past two years. One of the biggest factors is interest rates, which are currently between 6.5% and 7%, making the monthly payment higher for today's buyers.

But this is not all doom and gloom! A changing market can also create opportunities. We're seeing more sellers offer to pay some or all of a buyer's closing costs. On a $1 million home, that could mean $25,000 or more in savings for the buyer. Sellers are also helping buyers by offering credits to buy down their interest rate, which can make the monthly payment more manageable.

Sellers may not be able to net quite as much as they could have earlier this year, but there are still opportunities to achieve a great price. The market may be changing, but there are always ways to make a deal work.

SEAN SAYS…

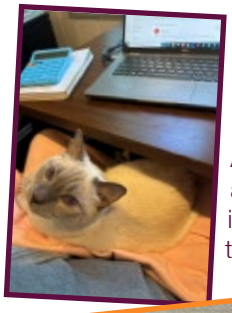
Welcome to the Kitty Corner! BY PATRICIA LENAHAN

This article truly was initiated by Sean who paid an unexpected "visit" to my neighbor's yard. Somehow or other, he knocked down a six-inch segment of the fence and managed to get through it. When my neighbor, Rosie, saw him, he "apparently" felt guilty and quickly returned home.

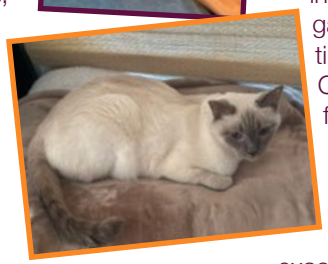
As a result of Sean's visit, I got to visit Rosie and family, too. Rosie and Moses Curiel live in Washington Square.

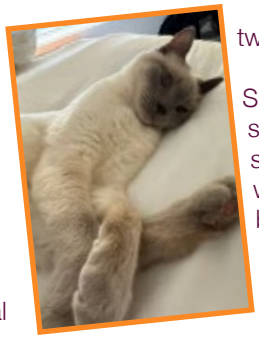
Sunny and Clarabelle are 7-year-old Applehead Siamese littermates who have been part of our family since they were kittens. We obtained them from a breeder in Northern California after searching for friendly, loving cats to add to our household.

Sunny is devoted, gentle, and loving. While he is shy around new people, he is incredibly loyal to our oldest son, Shane, and follows him from room to room. He loves being petted and is the more affectionate of our two cats. Sunny sleeps with Shane every night and is happiest when he is close to his family.



His sister, Clarabelle, is bossy, curious, and independent. She acts like the big sister of the family, keeping both her brother, Sunny, and our two sons in line.





She is quick to announce when she wants something, enjoys spending time by her favorite window watching the world go by, and demands affection on her own schedule. Clarabelle is especially bonded to our youngest son, Erik, and sleeps with him each night.

Both cats love Churu treats and still enjoy simple toys such as string and furry toy mice. Although they are extremely shy around visitors, they love being involved whenever our family is together. Whether we are watching a movie, playing board games, or simply spending time at home, Sunny and Clarabelle can usually be found nearby.

One of Clarabelle's funniest habits is reprimanding people when they don't pet her exactly the way she prefers. She is not afraid to make her opinion known!

We love Sunny and Clarabelle because they are truly part of our family. They are more than pets; they are like our children. Their unique personalities, loyalty, and companionship have brought us ears of joy, laughter, and love.

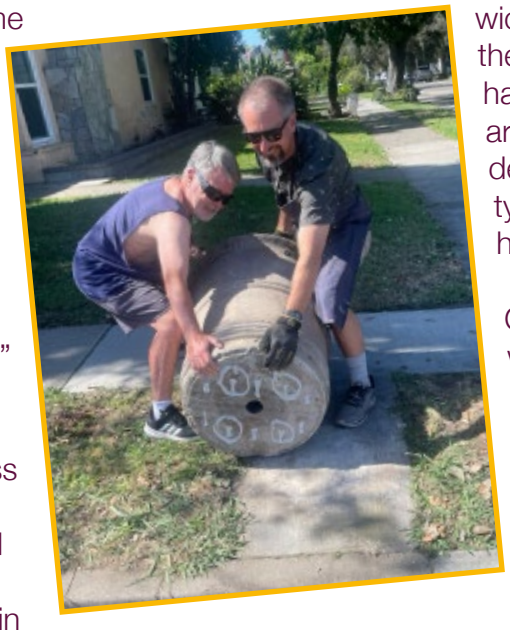
And Thank You Mike and Mark!

BY TOM LUTZ

If you're like me, when coming up Freeman St., you may have wondered "am I losing it, or wasn't there a WSNA trash can on the southeast corner of Freeman and 10th St.?" It was now across the street on the opposite corner on the grass curb area! The city was notified and a crew came out and moved the can back to its designated cement pad location.



When the trash cans were installed years ago, they were glued down so they couldn't be subjected to "Cow Tipping" or, in this case, "Trash Can Tipping." Evidently, the guy was awful strong to break it away from the adhesive and then move it across the street. Mike MacGuire and Mark Podolak kindly volunteered to reposition the trash can and added the adhesive to secure it in place. If you notice any damage or missing pieces on the trash cans let the Board know; the Board is responsible for their maintenance.

A little history: the trash cans were the results of the WSNA Board in 2004 wanting to curtail the litter problem up and down Washington and 15th. As a pilot program, the Board purchased seven plastic cans and located them on different corners of Washington and 15th St. After two years of monitoring the amount of trash that was going into the cans and not on the street, the Board worked with the city to make the program permanent. The city was able to get a grant to pour the cement foundations and get Waste Management (at that time) to service them. WSNA would be responsible for the purchase of the permanent concrete cans and their installation. Different sponsors were contacted who paid to purchase a can and have their business name on it. After several years, the business signs were changed out to our WSNA logo of "George".

In 2022, when Republic Services won the City's trash hauling contract, the WS Trash Can program was in jeopardy. The Board successfully lobbied the council and public works to have Republic's contract include the servicing of our WSNA cans. By doing so, the city came to understand the role the cans play in the fight against litter. The program was adopted and made city wide thus other neighborhoods were then able to get trash cans. You may have noticed the city trash cans; they are gray plastic with four openings designed for the trash trucks to empty them as they do with our house hold trash cans.

Our pilot program in 2004, which was chaired by then board member Silvia Clark, ended up becoming a city-wide program to curb the litter in our neighborhoods and streets. Take a bow Washington Square!

The Artists' Village Update with JJ

BY PATRICIA LENAHAN

Jeffrey Jensen, known as "JJ", opened Chapter One on Broadway on St. Patrick's Day, 2011. JJ was born and raised in Santa Ana where he still lives with his wife and two children.

JJ is well-known to the members of the Literature and Libations Book Club, hosted by Washington Square neighbor, Julie Seyler. The book club has been meeting at Chapter One for over eight years, enjoying the privacy of the Red Room to discuss our thoughts about the "book of the month".

Recently, JJ purchased The Den (formerly The Gypsy Den) and now the Artist's Village Café. JJ described the Café as a "time capsule" and a piece of history in Santa Ana since 1994. It is one of the first coffee cafes in the city of Santa Ana.

He is dedicated to restoring and preserving the original design and art of The Gypsy Den and has spent countless hours restoring the restaurant including the floor (still a work in progress), furniture, art work, and the "feel" of the Den. It WAS like walking into a wonderful time capsule and one I have missed for a long time. JJ has more projects to follow including updating the restrooms.

Perhaps most importantly, the menu of the Den is being preserved, too. As a vegetarian, I am delighted to have all the options, including the vegan chili. Diners can substitute vegetarian "meats" in many of the selections. He will be expanding the menu as things progress.

JJ was able to have family members of the original bakers "restore" the Carrot Cake. It is as delicious as ever. The ladies of the Washington Square Bunco group can confirm this. I asked JJ if I could order a dozen Carrot Cakes for our September bunco and he kindly donated them to us.

He hopes to bring the cinnamon buns back, too.

One of JJ's most recent updates at the Den Café is improving the sound system and restoring the stage. Friday nights are "open mic" nights from 5 pm to 10pm. There are four time slots for musicians to play on Tuesday and Thursday evening from 6pm to 9pm.

It is wonderful to have Chapter One and The Artist's Village Café close to our neighborhood. Both have great food and are very welcoming, thanks to JJ.

Sleigh Bells Ring... are you listening?

BY DIANE MORTER

A HOLIDAY INVITATION FROM ASSISTANCE LEAGUE OF SANTA ANA

A Little History

When the holiday season arrives in Santa Ana, the sound of sleigh bells will soon be ringing at the Assistance League of Santa Ana. But behind those bells - and behind the historic Chapter House on West First Street - is a remarkable story of more than 90 years of community service, volunteerism and philanthropy.

The story of Assistance League began in Los Angeles in the 1890s, when philanthropist Anne Banning and a small group of women organized charitable efforts to help people in need. Their work expanded during the early 1900s, including relief following the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

In 1919, Anne Banning, Ada Edwards Laughlin and their fellow volunteers formally established Assistance League of Southern California, creating a model of hands-on volunteer service that would eventually spread throughout the country. National Assistance League was organized in 1935, the same year the Santa Ana Chapter was organized.

Assistance League of Santa Ana was officially chartered in 1937 with 42 members, making it the third chapter in the growing Assistance League family.

The chapter's first fundraiser was especially appropriate for its era: members hosted bridge games at Mrs. Katharine Irvine's ranch. Their efforts raised $1,500 for Santa Ana's Ebell Club Day Care.

More than nine decades later, that same spirit of identifying local needs and finding practical ways to help remains at the heart of the organization.

A Chapter House With a Theatrical Story

The Assistance League campus at 1037 W. First Street, Santa Ana is more than a place where volunteers meet and philanthropies are organized. It also has a fascinating connection to one of Orange County's most celebrated historical figures: Helena Modjeska.

Madame Helena Modjeska was a renowned Polish-born Shakespearean actress who made Southern California her home. Part of a house in which Modjeska once lived was moved from Tustin to the Assistance League property, reportedly during freeway construction around 1950. That historic structure became known as the Modjeska Chapter House.

The Chapter House has also played a starring role in holiday celebrations. In the 1980s it displayed elaborately decorated Christmas trees during Assistance League events - a fitting connection between the building's theatrical history and the League's tradition of bringing the community together.

What Does Assistance League of Santa Ana Do?

The chapter responds to the needs of Santa Ana children, families and seniors through locally designed philanthropic programs:

- Operation School Bell®
- SOC It to Hunger
- College Scholarships
- Katharine Irvine Dental Center
- S.A.I.L. Teacher Grants
- Gift of Giving
- Senior Outreach

There's a Place for Everyone

Assistance League of Santa Ana welcomes women and men of many ages who want to volunteer their time, talents and energy.

The OC Street Car

OC Streetcar testing is becoming more frequent and routine along the full route between the Santa Ana Train Station and the Harbor/Westminster stop in Garden Grove.

As testing increases, streetcar activity will become more noticeable throughout the community, including horn and bell sounds, as preparations continue for passenger service early next year.

As testing increases, sharing the road safely with streetcars is especially important. Please stay alert, obey traffic laws, park legally and keep streetcar tracks and travel lanes clear.

Illuminated signs at certain intersections will activate as streetcars approach to temporarily detour traffic. Vehicles that block or interfere with streetcar operations may be subject to towing in accordance with local parking regulations.
